About my speaking and teaching:

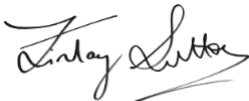

My speaking and honouraria fees reflect the quality of the clinical work I present and the dedication I have put into removable prosthodontics throughout my career. There is a large amount of free material on my website (Resources and Case Studies) and on my Facebook page. My lecturing and speaking engagements help support the creation of this free material.

I am transparent, honest, and hold nothing back technically or emotionally, so that delegates benefit fully from the experience. The feedback I receive consistently highlights the value of this approach.

My presentations showcase careful documentation of every patient I treat, illustrated with clear photography and video. The practical advice I share can be applied immediately in clinical practice. I aim to deliver everything in a focused, engaging, and enjoyable way.

If you are interested in inviting me to speak, I am open to reasonable negotiation. However, I recommend paying the requested fees, as they reflect the significant work that goes into developing the material and the quality of the learning experience I provide.

Many thanks indeed
